Dear Prospective Buyers:

My name is David Clarke. I am a licensed agent for Farmers Insurance servicing all of Montana. After reviewing the structural integrity and safety benefits of the EverLog System™ I am pleased to offer several insurance policies covering their structures. Specific policy choices include Builders Risk (covering the construction phase) and Protector Plus Homeowners (general homeowners insurance.) EverLog Systems structures will be written as solid concrete structures and will receive all the rate benefits of a concrete structure.

If you have a client building outside Montana, please have a local Farmers agent in that state call me and I will pass along all the underwriting requirements to write the business.

Farmers Insurance has been lowering rates in the past two years and their home owner's rates are very competitive. Homeowners will also receive additional saving when they package their homeowners with auto and/or life policies.

Best regards,

David Clarke
